Drive Opens For Complete Guard Unit

Thirty Men Needed To Round Out A Full Company In Sierra Madre

"To rediscover the spirit which built America, join the California State Guard," declare men of the local unit, who under the leadership of Frank Spencer, this week began a personal contact campaign to recruit 30 men, in order to form a complete Sierra Madre company.

In the present national emergency adequate home defense is considered one of the major military problems, as events of recent months have conclusively shown that the defense of a nation no longer depends alone upon the efficiency of military, naval and air forces, but also must include trained groups who stay on the home front to prevent possible widespread sabotage.

Here in Sierra Madre, as in all parts of the state, attorneys, authors, newspapermen, artists, business men and laborers are forming a confraternity, with just one though in mind—to do their part to defend their home community, or Southern California if need be, in an emergency.

The age limit has now been reduced to include all men between the ages of 18 and 64. Basic infantry training is given to all volunteers as the State Guard is required to take the same training as the National Guard.

Formation of a company here would bring an additional supply of rifles, so that every man in the ranks would be armed. Young men volunteering have the advantage of early training which would insure quick promotions to those later called into the regular army. Headquarters are located in the city hall where any additional information is available.

Labor Scout Finds It Sizzling Hot In The East

With the mercury standing at 110 in some of the districts he is visiting, Sam Schwartz, of the personnel department at Lockheed Aircraft, is finding the business of recruiting eastern labor a hot job.

Schwartz left last week by plane for Omaha and Lockheed offices throughout the middle west and east to take some of the delay out of the Lockheed employment program. His trip is of indefinite duration and is expected to materially increase the number of Lockheed employees.

Don Jackson Wins Medals As He Enters Active Marine Duty

Hugh Donald Jackson, son of Mrs. E. L. Jackson, 55 North Auburn avenue, has completed his recruit training at the San Diego Marine Corps base and is now on active duty with one of the many Marine units, it was learned here today.

Young Jackson won medals for his skill with the rifle, pistol and bayonet during recruit training.

Kiwanians Enjoy A Varied Program On Ladies Night

With the Grove street garden of Mr. and Mrs. Waverly Pratt forming an attractive setting, and recorded music furnished by Richard Welles adding to the gaiety of the occasion the Kiwanis Ladies Night barbecue proved a complete success Tuesday evening.

Kiwanians and their wives took time off from the serious matters of the day to play, and engaged in badminton, ping pong, a staged radio broadcast and dancing.

Harry Lange took charge of barbecuing the steaks while the committee responsible for the success of the evening included Mrs. Lange, Dr. and Mrs. J. Stadden Miller, Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Marsh.

Campers Find High Sierra Trout And Mosquitos Biting

Mosquitos as well as trout are biting in quantities in the High Sierras above Mineral King and into the upper reaches of Kern Canyon even though deep snow in the passes makes much of the region inaccessable, says R. C. Lewis, local bang president, and Dr. M. H. A. Peterson, who have returned from a 12-day camping and fishing trip. Many of the trails and passes will be inaccessable this summer because of the winter's exceptionally heavy snows.

They packed in from Mineral King traveling about 45 miles on horseback into the less frequented and wilder country. There each managed to hook as many trout as he wished daily. The camping duo returned to town all enthusiasm for the Sierras, back country fishing and horseback riding, but Dr. Peterson, pretty well bitten up, was forced to admit that mosquitos are not the most desirable companions for a vacation. It was his first vacation of the kind taken with a veteran camper and lover of the wild country. "Mosquitos and all, we had a wonderful time," said Dr. Peterson.

Crossing Guards Coming Back When Schools Reopen

With the proposal by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors to reappoint SRA clients to their former work as crossnig guards at the opening of the school semester if cities in the county will provide supervision, assurance is given here that the regular four crossing guards will be on hand this year to see that local children reach school safely.

Guards are reguarly stationed at Baldwin and Grand View, Baldwin and Highland, Auburn and Highland, and Hermosa and Highland avenues.

While definite wage for the guards has not been established as yet it will probably be in accordance with the former level of $56.

Boys Busy On Entries For The Derby

Many Original Designs Will Be Seen In Soap Box Race Of September 13

Setting out to establish innovations for design by streamlining their racers which will be entered in Sierra Madre's first soap box derby, September 13, local boys got out hammers and planes this week and began construction of their entries.

Working at home or under the guidance of directors at the Kiwanis community center, boys are building racers of almost every conceivable type. Some will be of ball bearing construction, others will follow national specifications ,while many will be definitely original models.

Boys who have entered to date are David Smedley, Jack Hitchcock, Goodrich and William Simmons, who are entering one racer together, one acting as driver and the other as mechanic; Ronny Mulchusson, Peter Scanlan, Bennett Thill and Ben McKessa of San Marino.

The competition is open to boys of all ages, who will be classified in age groups, and to racers of every type which will also be grouped in special classifications.

Those planning to enter ,but who have not done so as yet, are asked to register without delay at the recreation center.

Last night Dr. John Woehler, Clarence Huntsinger, Harry Lange, Samuel McElfresh, William Burr and Frank Spencer, who comprise the Kiwanis committee sponsoring the event, met to formulate a complete plan governing entries, contestants, judging and awards.

Monrovia All Stars Defeated 4 To 1 By Hometown Boys

Continuing its record of fine playing for the season, the Sierra Madre All-Star baseball team scored a 4 to 1 victory over the Monrovia All-1Stars in a close game played at the grammar school diamond Friday evening.

Kiggins, pitching for Sierra Madre had 14 strike outs while Decker of Monrovia struck out 11 Sierra Madre batters. Robert LaLone, catching for the first time, came through with a fine job. On the Sierra Madre team were: Dan Davis, 1b, Don Miller 2b; Sam Davis 3b, Junior Grippi ss, Don Williams, lf, Johnny Grippi, cf, Bob Smith, rf.

Citizens To Raise Funds For A New Public Library

Some members of the public library board were puzzled this week by a rumor of the possible enlargement of the city park house as the future structure to house the Sierra Madre library. Apparently the plan came as a complete surprise to the board and the library staff, and its origin was hazy.

According to information received by the NEWS, and active campaign to raise funds for a new enlarged fireproof building will be started early in the fall and will not be handled by the library board, but by a committee of interested citizens.

It is expected that the council will make a report at the meeting next Tuesday evening, on the request from the Library board for a contribution from the city to start the fund. At the meeting last week, this letter from W. W. Alley, president of the board, was referred to the committee of the whole.

Warmer Weather Says Weatherman

With the weatherman promising clear and warmer weather for the next few days, Sierra Madreans took a cooler breath yesterday and hoped that he was mistaken.

Slight but nevertheless unusual showers on the 16th registered .08 inches at the Sierra Madre dam, .04 at the Mira Monte reservoir and .02 at the pumping plant, bringing the temperature down to 78 degrees, for one day only as the following day it again shot up to 94. Temperatures for the week were:

		Max.	Min.

Aug.	15	96	68

Local Draft Board To Send 7 Men Into Army Next Call

Issuance of the 16th draft call scheduled for sometime between September 10 and 30, reveals that seven men will be called into the army by the Sierra Madre-Arcadia-Monrovia draft board. Selection will be made as soon as the official notice of the call is received from Washington. Names of selectees, however, will probably not be released until early in September, according to Keith Banston, secretray of local board 191 at Monrovia.

Hitching Rail Of The Old Days Back At Ranger Station

A relic of the old west, the hitching rail, became a reality here again last week when the U.S. Forest service, acting to prevent destruction of the lawn of the Santa Anita Station, set posts and nailed a cross rail into position on North Santa Anita avenue, across from the Forest Station.

While horseback riders coming into the district in steadily increasing numbers, seemed to get a keen delight from "mooring their steeds in front of the station where they could munch on the lawn," District Ranger Pat Harlan took a different view of the matter ,and as patches of bare ground grew larger with the constant tearing up of sod, struck upon the practical idea of building the hitching rail.

Taking no chances though of incuring the displeasures of riders and horses, Harlan also installed a concrete watering trough where horses may be refreshed before taking the nearby trails.

Princess Der Ling Arranging China Relief Party Here

Preliminary plans are under way for the huge China Relief benefit which will be sponsored by Sierra Madre and Altadena, and held at Wistaria Vine Gardens, September 20.

Plea May Save Nearby CCC Camp

Danger Of Sabotage In Angeles Forest Impressed On U.S. Senators

Presenting a strong plea for the retention of CCC Crews at the Tuna Canyon State Camp and the Angeles Crest Camp 993 which were closed this week, Councilman Paul Carter appeared before the Harry Truman Senatorial investigating committee in Pasadena Tuesday.

Carter, who has made a lifelong study of water and forestry problems of the entire foothill area, based his appeal on the ground that major sabotage effecting all of the greater Los Angeles area would be a simple matter if the foothills are not adequately protected. Carter stated that fires sweeping through the Angeles forest would extensively damage the power and water supply of this region, curtail work in all of the factories now engaged on defense production, and lay waste thickly populated and productive districts.

He was supported by George Kelly, Pasadena safety chairman of the State Chamber of Commerce and 11 residents of Montrose, La Crescenat and Altadena, many of whom have first hand knowledge of the havoc caused by fire and flood in even a limited area.

U. S. Senator James Mead of New York, chairman for the day, stated at the close of the hearing that those appearing had presented a strong and convincing case, and that he believed they would get the support of the Senate committee.

CCC enrollees, one of whom is considered worth five untrained men when it comes to fire suppression, have been transferred from the Angeles Crest Camp at Oak Grove Park to the Big Dalton Canyon, while those from Tuna Canyon will be sent to Lompoc and the Los Prietos CCC Camps in the Los Padres National Forest. However they could be recalled to this district if the investigating committee presented a favorable decision. To insure as much protection as possible for the forest back of La Canada and Altadena, a six man tanker crew has been placed at the Angeles Crest Camp by the U. S. Forest Service.

SIERRA MADRE GUARDSMEN SAVE THE DAY AT HUGE MOBILIZATION MANEUVERS

See That Crowd Gets Luncheon When Mess Crew Overcome By Heat

Sierra Madre's "1941 Minute Men" turned out with 70 percent of their enlisted strength Sunday to take part in the State Guard maneuvers at Santa Anita Park, largest mobilization of State Guardsmen to take place in the United States, thus far.

Forty-one men left here at 9 a.m. and traveled to Arcadia to become part of Company C, 1st batallion of the 3rd regiment. Later in the morning they merged with 4500 other guardsmen from the desert and foothill areas, metropolitan Los Angeles, the beach cities and the orange belt for religious service and blessing of the colors which preceeded the maneuvers, of which many events were cancelled because of the heat.

At noon 700 distinguished guests and the reviewing officers enjoyed dinner because three local men stepped into the breach when the mess sergeant and his two assistants were overcome with the heat. Norman Nelson, purchasing agent for Vard Laboratories, who also has some culinary experience to his credit, took charge of the meal and with the assistance of Ray Hudson, Ralph Martin, and men from other platoons saw that the entire crowd was satisfactorily served.

Among the spectators who filled the grandstand were many Sierra Madreans who cheered the platoons as they passed in review before Col. Jack Hastie Jr., commanding officer, Brigadier General Joseph O. Donovan, Adjutant of California who had called mobilization, and other prominent military and naval figures.

While Sierra Madre's contingent captured no honors it gave evidence of the important part which local men may have in the present national emergency, through being on hand when needed to protect lives and property of people in their own communities.

India's Relations With Britain Vine Supper Topic

Position of India in the present European-Asiatic conflicts, and its future in the post war world, will be discussed by T. Wathne, Sunday night at Wistaria Vine Gardens where he will speak at the supper salon on the topic "The Relation of India to Britain and the World.

Mr. Wathne, a Norwegian by birth and an American citizen for many years, has a first hand knowledge of India and her problems. For approximately 15 years he engaged in public education work in the northern provinces as an appointee of the Baptist Board of Foreign Missions. Mrs. Wathne who will also speak briefly, carried on extensive public health work in the same region. Both speakers will be introduced by Dr. J. Earl Gossard.

James Giridlian will conduct the usual short garden forum.

Army Trained Youth Will Be Big Help At Home After The War

A soldier who is going to be mighty handy around the home when his training program is over at Camp San Luis Obispo, is Pfc. Hiram C. Evans, Co. E, 185th Infantry Regiment, of 51 North Mountain Trail avenue, who was home for the weekend before leaving for maneuvers at Camp Lewis, Wash.

The soldier has been given the coveted certificate from the School for Bakers and Cooks at the camp after an intensive two months course in cooking, and is now qualified to "pull a shift" in a company mess here, cooking all three meals including meats, pastries, and other dishes. He is also qualified to supervise kitchen sanitation and personal hygeine of his crew, translate bare recipes into proper quanties for numbers to be fed, and spread it on the tables all hot and tasty. He was given his diploma in a formal ceremony.

New Mountain Road To Desert Will Be Opened Sept. 12

Plans for formal dedication of the Angeles Forest Highway in the mountains above Sierra Madre and connecting the Angeles Crest Highway with Antelope Valley, have been tentatively set for Friday, September 12th, at 11 a.m. Approaches to the high bridge across Tujunga Creek are being graded and work on the tunnel a short distance north of the bridge is being rushed to completion. There still remains about 2.6 miles of road to be graded and surfaced between Prison Camp No. 5 and the tunnel. It is possible that about a mile of this section of road will not be oiled until Spring, allowing some of the fills to settle before surfacing. The total distance of the new Angeles Forest Highway between its junction with the Angeles Crest Highway, 9.6 miles north of La Canada, and U.S. 6 at Vincent, is approximately 24 miles.

Council Abandons Plan To Improve An East End Alley

Possibility of the city improving the alley west of North Mountain Trail, between East Sierra Madre blvd. and East Montecito avenue, was shelved Tuesday evening when Marion Hays ,street superintendent, and William Schwartz, water superintendent, stated that the alley has never been dedicated to the city, and that it would be unlawful for the city to use public funds for its improvement. Paving of the alley had been asked by Mrs. Zayda Leonard.

The council accepted a rider extending the rate of securities bond of $65,000 on city deposits for the fiscal year of 1941-42, and agreed to have property owners notified when their tenant's water bills have become 60 days delinquent.

May Raise Orchid Trees To Beautify City's Streets

Sierra Madre's streets may one day be lined with flowering Bauhinia trees if the city planning commission and the city council concur with the Sierra Madre Garden Club in accepting the gift of two thousand Bauhinia seeds from John Churchman, southern horticulturist and resident of Sierra Madre.

Mrs. W. J. Lawless and Councilman Paul Carter have been appointed by the Garden Club to present the plan to the planning commission and the council. The trees would be propogated in the city lath house and when large enough set out in city parkways.

They are a type which grows well in this climate, and in the spring create a spectacular display of orchid like blossoms, causing them to be commonly known as the orchid tree.

8-Year Old Girl Hops Plane For Florida

Cutting Down Fire Hazard In The Hills

New Junior Chamber Has Party While Cleaning Up Orchard Camp

Reduction of the fire hazard at Orchard Camp, got under way during the weekend, when approximately 18 Junior Chamber of Commerce members removed and burried tons of dry weeds.

Working under the leadership of Fred LaLone, who has 1800 hours of fire suppression work to his credit and was appointed to take charge of the work by Fire Chief W. D. Richards, the boys hoed steadily all day Saturday and Sunday, clearing away highly inflammable growth from about the cabins.

According to LaLone there is still much work to do in trimming dry brush and removing debris from the streambed. Also on hand during the weekend was Bob Hansen, U.S. Forest service guard from the Santa Anita station.

Boys participating in the cleanup, which will be of protective benefit to Sierra Madre, found that the outing was not all work, and on Saturday night feasted on a hunters stew prepared by LaLone, who made the trip to camp burdened with provisions for the group.

This weekend members of the Junior Chamber will again make the trip and if sufficient adult assistance is available will complete the cleanup.

Those working through the weeked were George Grijalva, Lyle Stewart, Robert Knapp, Warren Jones, Bob Thomas, Robert Newbery, Ed Blakeman, Lawrence Doughty and Don Nelson.

Another Local Boy Joins The Navy

Another young Sierra Madrean to join Uncle Sam's defense forces is Harry C. Hoppe of 56 Morton avenue, who has enlisted with the Navy and is now stationed at the Naval Training Station at San Diego.

Young Hoppe, who is the son of Mrs. E. Hoppe, and the nephew of Mrs. Leona Hambaugh, well known resident, was among those included in the second registration from this district. He formerly worked on the Oregon ranch of an uncle, but since coming south had not been employed.

Last weekend Mrs. Hoppe and another son David, visited in San Diego and found the new recruit all praise for the Navy. This week he is expected home on a nine-day furlough.

HOEGEE'S CAMP IN HILLS ABOVE CITY BEING TURNED INTO A YOUTH HOSTEL

With the establishment of a chartered Youth Hostel at Camp Leroy in Big Santa Anita Canyon, revival of the once extensive hiking through the Sierra Madre mountains, appears imminent.

Mrs. Iva Johnson, chairman of the local committee sponsoring Camp Leroy, has announced the arrival of the official 1941 AYH charter from the National headquarters of American Youth Hostels, Inc., at Northfield, Mass.

At the meeting of the committee last week the charter was presented to Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Inglet, house parents of the hostel. Members of the committee on whose behalf Mrs. Johnson received the charter are Mr. and Mrs. Inglet, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davidson, Floyd Johnson, Emmet Black, Mrs. Edith Dane, Mrs. Asenath Young, Clarence Huntsinger, Sidney Gottlieb, Dr. Nathan Jacobs and Hugh Anderson.

Establishment of a Hostel here, culminates almost a year of preliminary work in locating a suitable site. Camp Leroy is situated at the old Hoegee camp in the Big Santa Anita Canyon and is within easy reach of Chantry Flats.

For the in trip it is considered avisable to drop down into the Canyon and continue up Winter Creek, a distance of approximately three and a half miles. The return may be made over a longer route by taking the upper trail from Camp Leroy to Chantry Flats.

Extensive improvements have been made at the camp, including complete renovation of the lodge, djning and recreation hall, as well as the cabins. Oak trees have been trimmed and a natural swimming pool, having a maximum depth of eight feet, constructed.

Work is now progressing on badminton, suffleboard and tennis courts, while the baseball diamond is already in use.

Hostelers come on foot, traveling for fun, health and for a knowledge of the country which cannot be learned in the school room. They find of specjal interest in this vicinity, the Mt. Wilson Observatory, Mt. Lowe railroad ruins, the Wistaria Vine, San Gabriel and Santa Anita Dams, as well as the vast stretches of comparatively undeveloped mountain territory.

There are now 243 chartered youth hostels in 22 states from Maine to California, available to all holders of AYH passes, for 30 cents a night. Passes may be obtained at a cost of $1 for those under 21 and at $2 for those over 21. Hikers, bikers and horseback riders, all who travel under their own steam, are welcome at youth hostels.

NOTED LINGUIST COMES HERE TO COMPLETE VOLUME ON MODERN YUCATEC

Finding Sierra Madre an excellent place to work, S. L. Bradshaw, linguistic authority has established his residence here and is now completing a discriptive volume on modern Yucatec, the language of approximately 300,000 Mayan Indians, descendents of the ancient Mayan civilization.

The work was begun by Dr. Manuel J. Andrade, one of the greatest modern linguistic students for the Carnegie Institute at Washington, as part of the historical research which is being conduced on the three Americas.

Dr. Andrade began the research on middle American linguistics in 1930, collecting material on all of the 23 Mayan languages. This original material was recorded on 112 ten inch double faced aluminum discs. All the recordings were made from normal conversations of the various Mayan groups. In addition some of the material was taken through dictation.

At the time of Dr. Andrade's death in January, the work was only partially finished, and the task of completing and editing the entire manuscript was given to Mr. Bradshaw, who had been working at the University of Chicago as manuscript critic for Dr. Andrade for two years.

Mr. Bradshaw is now spending around ten hours each day on the manuscript, the most important work of its kind yet undertaken. It will consist of approximately 500 pages and will be ready for publication next summer.

A native of Oregon, Mr. Bradshaw took his undergraduate work at Stanford where he received his B.A. He has worked as an acountant, taught Latin and mathematics at Ohio State College, and Ventura Junior College. His post graduate work was taken at the University of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw and two children are living at 205 North Hermosa and have as their house guest John Schaeffer from the University of Chicago, who is using some of the Andrade material for his M.A. thesis. Mrs. Bradshaw has specialized in psychology and has done some literary work in that field.

Canyon Swallows Leave Weeks Ahead Of Their Schedule

Disruption of all world traditions extends even into the lives of birds it seems, for this week none of the swallows which usually enjoy their stay in Sierra Madre canyon until San Juan Day, October 23, could be found anywhere in Canyon Park. Families nest each year at the homes of Jim Heasley and Mrs. Anna Block, on Oakdale drive.

Their arrival this year was also off schedule, only a few of the advance guard coming into the canyon on St. Joseph's Day, March 19.

Their arrival and departure have been timed with those of the main contingent which annually spends the nesting season and early fall at San Juan Capistrano Mission. Early this week Father Arthur J. Hutchinson, pastor of the mission, reported that the entire flock had abandoned San Juan two months ahead of time.

As It Appears To me

¶ It is true that women are less reasonable than men— that in civic matters they go off the deep end quicker and usually at the wrong time? At least one young Sierra Madrean thinks so and is setting the stride for her local contemporaries, hoping that early and constant participation in civic affairs will bring about a strengthening of feminine level headedness in a few generations.

¶ So today we are introducing, tall, demi-blond, exceptionally lovely Elzbeth Jackson, secretary of the Sierra Madre Junior Chamber of Commerce. Born at Palo Alto—Sierra Madrean since she was a few months old— graduate of the grammar school, Wilson Junior High and now a student at Monrovia High—youngest daughter of the late Dr. E. L. Jackson, beloved by the whole town, who had the spark which makes a great medical man, and Mrs. Jackson, who still has a sympathetic ear for many local woes— she will give you a smile which is worth going miles for should you saunter into Skeels drug store for a coke before school starts.

¶ Doing her best to uphold a family tradition which calls for the production of at least one doctor in every generation, Miss Jackson has declared herself for a career as an anaesthesiast, "because there is still too much prejudice against women in medicine."

¶ We hear that Dr. M. H. A. Peterson learned practically everything there is to know about mosquitos on his recent first trip into the Sierras with R. C. Lewis, whom we venture to say could not be jarred from his characteristic complacency by such winged tormentors— even thousands of them... that anyone less than Rita Hayworth will be frowned upon by Wave Pratt, if she tries to capture the Yoo-Hoo girlship of the local State Guard Platoon ... that Guardsmen are all in favor of establishment of a feminine regiment which would provide plenty of ice cool lemonade for men on long maneuvers and that Dick Hawks doesn't think much of the full time job of caring for small exuberant sons.

¶ WE SEE that Garland's new store is far more attractive than the one to which we had become accustomed... this will probably mean an up in the business ... that Hopper Park in Kersting Court is bedraggled— nice spot for a plot of dichondra which neither dogs nor children would injure materially ... that "Pop" Froehlich has a gay and understanding interest in all youngsters.

—Margaret Ellason.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM S. WAGNER

Final rites were conducted by the Rev. Frederic Groetsema at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial Park Tuesday morning for William S. Wagner, a resident of this city for the last 25 years, who passed away Saturday at his home, 270 East Alegria avenue. Grant Chapel was in charge or arrangements.

Mr. Wagner was born in 1860 in New York city, where he spent most of his life as a professional engraver. Upon his retirement he came to Sierra Madre. Here he developed a sincere interest in nature and made many exquisite carvings from native woods which he collected.

Mr. Wagner is survived by his wife, Mrs. Gertrude E. Wagner, one son, William Wagner, and a brother and sister who live in the east.

Propose Donation Of Plants Here To Spark Army Camps

On a motion made by Mrs. Maria Wilkes, past president, at a meeting of the Sierra Madre Garden Club Tuesday evening, members took under advisement a plan to sponsor the collection of surplus nursery stock and potted shrubs, trees and flowers from Sierra Madre gardens, for beautification of nearby U. S. Army camps.

While no definite action was taken indication is given that the club will follow through with the plan and will ask residents to contribute all possible stock so that the barren surroundings at Army centers may be transformed by attractive plantings.

The club met in the delightful gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spencer for a twilight supper followed by an exceptionally fine lecture on color in the home and garden by Edgar Harrison Wileman.

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

When the San Gabriel Valley Firemen's Association met in Sierra Madre last Wednesday, there were firemen from all sections of the valley and all left with a feeling that our city is a good place to visit. This organization meets monthly, each month at a different city somewhere in the valley. The object is to discuss ways and means of fighting fires and keeping up with the latest methods. Our members were among the first officers and Chief Richards continues to be the treasurer. Through these different firemen's connections, the local firemen are well known throughout the State.

"Toby," our little black mascot, has returned after having had a vacation at Lake Arrowhead. With his master, "Art" Johnson, he had a great time chasing lizards and squirrels. On his return to Sierra Madre, Toby proved his loyalty to the department here by making a "beeline" for the station.

Good fortune has again favored us the past week by not having had a fire call. The rain was a freak and only touched the surface, so think not that it has eliminated any fire hazard.

RED HOT POLO GAMES AT RIVIERA SUNDAY

El Ranchito hard-riding Texan poloists wil gallop into battle with a Riviera four Suday afternoon in another round of what has been the best series of polo of the year at Riviera Country Club. Another polo match and jumping events will precede this game.

BACK TO SCHOOL

School days are swiftly approaching as evidenced by the departure of two young Sierra Madreans. Alice James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. James, left Tuesday and George M. McRoberts III, will leave today for Berkeley.

Many Popular Volumes Are Added To Library's Circulation

Among important non-fiction volumes now on the shelves of the Sierra Madre Library is "Our Country's National Parks" by Melbo, illustrated by a young Sierra Madre artist, Roger Armstrong, who graduated from St. Rita's School, Cathedral High School, later attended PJC and Chouinard Art School, and is now drawing the popular comic strip "Porky Pig."

Other leading non-fiction books are "Berlin Diary" by Shirer; "Belle Star," Rascoe; "Amazon Throne," Harding; "Indian Art of the United States," Douglas; "Desert Country," Corle; "Pinion Country," Long; "Problems of modern Europe," Jackson; "Magic in a Bottle," Silverman; "Better Houses for Budgeteers," Willis; "In What Hour," (poetry) Rexroth; "Arsenic and Old Lace" (drama), Kesselring; "Come Hither," De La Mare; "Land of the Eye," Davis; and "Corn is Green" (drama), Williams.

New fiction includes "This Above All," Knight; "All of Their Lives," Brinig; "No Measures Danced," Lee; "Crime of Laura Sorelle," Shearing; "I Go By Sea, I Go By Land," Travers; "Christopher Strange," McKee; "Aftermath of Murder," Fitt; "When the Living Strive," La Piere; "Ann Carmeny," Birney; "N or M", Christie; "Murder at Liberty Hall," Clutton-Brock, and 'Mrs. Tim Carrie On," Stevenson.

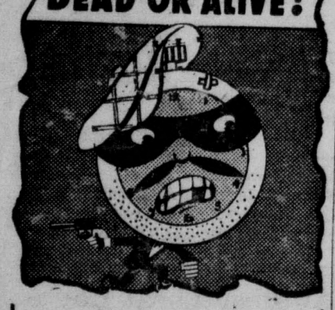

A circulation increase of 75 over July 1941 was noted at the library last month. Adult circulation was 3402 and juvenile 851, totaling 4253. Adult reading was 53 percent fiction and 27 per cent non-fiction, while juvenile readers made up 20 percent of the borrowers. Fifty-one persons registered for borrower's privileges during the month.

EPLOSIVE REMEDY

When it first was produced, nitroglycerine was banned as being too dangerous by most nations. Its commercial use was confined to use as a remedy for heart trouble.

WARN SMOKERS IN MOUNTAIN AREAS

A warning was issued this week by Santa Anita District Ranger Pat Harlan, to all motorists, hikers, and horseback riders in the Sierra Madre mountains, to smoke only in posted areas, where signs are now standing. According to Harlan, vandals have recently destroyed several smoking permit signs in Big Santa Anita canyon, and smoking in non-posted areas is illegal, even though the area was originally posted.

EVEN DIMES HELP

Dimes as well as dollars can build the armor of defense.

Defense savings stamps, bought with dimes, quarters and half dollars of school children, housewives and breadwinners, have already put upwards of six million dollars into the U.S. Treasury. Before the yaer is out, they are certain to have more than doubled that sum.

Already being worked out is a program in which a quarter of a million of the nation's retail stores, filling stations and other places of business will be enabled to sell defense stamps to the public. Early in July, Michigan chain stores took the initiative in launching just such a program. With the machinery at hand for an immediate coordinated effort by several thousand stores, no time was lost in putting the plan to a statewide test. The experiment proved so successful, Secertary of the Treasury Morgenthau has suggested extension of the plan to a nationwide scale.

We feel certain he can count on the wholehearted cooperation of retailers. Their aid in recent defense drives has been a living testimony to real unity in action, which is something worth a dozen speeches extolling it. When Americans roll up their sleeves to start digging, make way for the spade work!

The.... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

IN our own thought this body of ours is just a sort of rickety old house. Nobody else would want it. Good enough for us. Could be improved a lot. But hardly worth while now — even if we had the money ... Not that we're knocking. It has its—believe it or not— fascinations. Pleasantly, as you might say, haunted; with old music, old laughter, old pictures; yes, and—it seems a pity to call them that— ghosts. More ghosts than living people flocking round as a rule and just as companionable, just as alive: boys and girls from the age of innocence; and of the ages not so innocent—albeit (thou knowest, Lord!), none the worse for that. Not ghosts, really, so much as, to quote Milton, those "millions of spiritual creatures (who) walk the earth unseen, both when we wake and when we sleep." But—just a moment! —we didn't start out to write about ghosts.

WHAT we wanted to say was how this shabby house, this body, we live in has one of those regulation old-time attics —attic, garret, take your choice. We'd been reading Browning's Aurora Leigh: "I found the secret of a garret-room .. piled high, packed large—where, creeping in and out among the giant fossils of my past, like some small nimble mouse... I nibbled here and there... in heats of terror, haste, victorious joy..." Well, you know, or may surmise, the sort of stuff— "piled high, stacked large"—in any old man's attic. Heirlooms mostly. From his father. From his mother. From Sunday-school and church. From all his own multiple selves in all their own various past manifestations of love and hate, of gloom and fun—of wallowing sin (call it that ,if you wish) and flights of holiness.

SO, alone, we blow the dust away and contemplate. That old hymn—we can still hear our mother singing alto: "There is a land of pure delight..." And so on, to the lines, "Death, like a narrow sea, divides this heavenly land from ours." And there, "Nix," we say; "this is heaven where we are now." Off and on, that is; for too much heaven wouldn't be heaven at all. Flashes of heaven—long spells of it even, here in Sierra Madre; anyway, enough to give us a working knowledge of what Heaven ought to be. Heaven, Canaan, the Promised Land. Which gives us to think of the Jews—those early Jews who came into their Promised Land, just as we've come into this. What happened to them? And why? And may not the same thing happen to us?

MARY WARD (whom the kind spirits prosper!) sent us a poem. About that baby mocking-bird we wrote about some time back. We can't give all of it here. "..We thought of how the Master When he was here below— Said, 'Not a sparrow falleth— But its God doth know'..." (Thank you, Mary.) Well, since then, another of our young aviators — a fledgling woodpecker, this time, and a little red cap stuck on the back of his head— has followed the baby mocker over Jordan. There've been others. What we're trying to say is this: Blame the Jews, if you will, for the tragedies that befell them in their own Promised Land. But how about these baby birds? And how about —ourselves?

UP in our garret we nibble here and nibble there— "in heats of terror, haste, victorious joy." How like a darling little clown he was, that young woodpecker. Black and white dress all mussed up. Little red cap bobbing about as he tumbled around in the grass... On his way to Jordan though— and already there, most likely, so far as he knew. But the Cat his ferryman. Not so, for that young Jay, also a fledgling, we've been watching. Alert! Prepared! Ready for attack or defense, those jays —even this youngster. Yet none of these birds wanted war with the cats—did they? Not even the jays! Was it God who put cats into this bird Canaan? Was it God who passed the Jews into Canaan and then dispersed them? You answer.

BUT we'll say this. At least to ourselves we say it— as we sit in the still and haunted dust of our attic. Beware, O Israel (meaning us), lest in this present hour of judgment, ye again clamor to save Barrabas instead of —"this Man"! Fight! Barrabas has ruled too long. Fight now for the Son of Man! Fight! —say we. Then softly as a shadow, there comes Wordsworth. He speaks. Listen! "Who is the happy warrior? Who is he that every man in arms should wish to be? —It is the generous spirit who... if called upon to face some awful moment to which Heaven has joined great issues, good or bad, for human kind, is happy as a Lover; and attired with sudden brightness, as a man inspired."

What They Say ---

U.S. Senator Sheridan Downey, Atherton— "I am not interested in what happens in the present old age insurance system in 30 years, because it is so inequitable, paradoxical and insufficient that it should not be allowed to exist another year!"

—Naval Capt. J. W. Gates, S.F. —"Small fishing boats and pleasure craft now being mobilized on the Pacific coast will patrol the same waters for Uncle Sam that their private owners plied as fishermen and yachtsmen — but they won't be fishing and they won't be cruising for fun."

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

Everybody would like to see wages go up.

That is, if all wages would go up at once and more or less equally.

Everybody would like to see living costs go down and stay there— the price of butter and eggs and bread and shoes and house rent.

Unfortunately though, no economic system has yet come along to accomplish the trick of keeping incomes high and prices low —for the very simple reason that wages constitute one of the biggest items in the cost of any product, and when wages go up, the price of the product must rise accordingly.

Wage increases hav followed one another, wave on wave, in recent months, almost as fast and as regularly as strikes have occurred and disputes have been certified to the NLRB.

Concurrently, food prices have advanced 10.4 since January, clothing has gone up 1.2 per cent since May and rents in larger cities have risen 2.2 per cent in the same four months.

Already a little groggy trying to riddle out the problem that's never yet been solved, Congressmen are working overtime on a "price control" bill which Leon Henderson of the office of price administration and civilian supply will be asked to execute. If they come out of their conferences only with a reasonably good balancing act they will have done better than economists expect.

One suggestion already made toward such a balancing act would equalize the excess profits tax on business incomes by a similar tax on individual salary or wage increases; another would place a "purchase tax" on non-essential articles and luxury items.

Though it seems to be political dynamite to admit it, it is nevertheless true that prices canno be conrolled without some control of wages as well. A ceiling on one requires a ceiling on the other. That shouldn't be such a hush-hush proposition, nor too hard for intelligent people of any social or economic strata to take.

After all, it is elemental in our democracy that no one class may be singled out and penalized as the chief burden-toter.

Subsidjes, grants in aid, government bounties and pats on the head are nice enough for the recipient, but when emergency comes to a democracy, classes and cliques, wage earners and wage players need to quit hollering "Uncle!" and step up to accept their share of the burdens as well as the bounties.

MARCH OF RIMES

By H. F. NOAKE

MESSENGERS OF TIME

How busy are the tiny hands that journey round and round a clock; they move with each melodic tick, then move some more, with every tock. Deterred by neither quake nor flood, ignoring wars and plague and drought; just keep on going, night and day, no, nothing ever tires them out. Nor do they pay the slightest heed to glib entreaties, heard so oft, that someone's lotion gives allure, and makes hands kissable, and soft. Wise little hands, that never grasp for something, way off in the blue; vague things, forever out of reach, they leave to folks, like me, and you. What service they perform for man, on land and sea, in every clime; by their eternal, forward march, we keep in tune with Father Time.

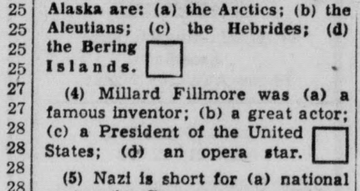

When HCL bites into the purses of wage earners in California industries, they have at least one comfort. Statistics show their average hourly earnings are 14.3 per cent higher than the average for the entire nation!

A decade ago Great Britain and the United States failed to lock the door until the horse was stolen. That was when Japan marched into northern China, sliced off a large chunk of territory, called it Manchukuo and established a puppet government there. A fortnight ago Great Britain and the United States were again forced to protest after the horse was stolen, when the docile puppets of Vichy gave French Indo-China into Japanese custoday. But today England and America are valiantly trying to keep the door tightly shut before the horse—in this case, Thailand —is stolen. Whether clear warnings to Japan will deter its military zealots at this late hour is doubtful. For ten years, with few reprisals, Japan has been highly successful in flouting the protests of others. Whether her ambition can now be curbed, as the people of Britain and the United States devoutly hope, is Tokio's secret. It will not remain a secret for long.

That Teutonic flavored word, hamburger, suffered an eclipse in this country during World War I. There are signs it may happen again. At last week's convention of meat merchants in Detroit it was proposed that hamburger be given a new monicker like Defense Steak. In the last war it went by the name of Liberty Staek. Whatever its aliases, all devotees have at least one comfort— the substance of the hamburger remains constant.

Though Congressional critics have charged the government with failure to spread the defense work, and accused it of awarding too many contracts to big firms at the expense of small enterprisers, there remains one field where the little fellow is holding his own with all colors flying. We refer to the country's several hundred thousand independent retailers who have been hanging up new records of their own, stimulated by the new millions of purchasing power. The Bureau of the Census reports that in the month of June, sales of independent retailers advanced 20 per cent over the same month last year. This is, incidentally, the 31st consecutive month in which retail sales, reported by the Department of Commerce, have bettered those in the corresponding month of the previous year. But other factories besides a tide of new defense dollars account for this. Contrary to what alarmists would have the public believe, the number of independent stores is increasing while chain stores are decreasing; the sales volume of independent stores is increasing faster than chain store sales; three retail dollars out of every four go into the independent's cash register. The Census figures reveal the independent merchant is not only holding his own. He is steadily gaining ground.

HER CP GAS RANGE DOES THE COOKING

MORE THAN EVER, THESE DAYS, ease is the keynote for good cooking — surpassed only by the marvelous meals you can serve. For today's gas ranges have brought leisure undreamed of a few years ago — with accuracy of performance that means success every time. Modern gas ovens hold any temperature a recipe requires — relieve you of worry. The automatic cooking clock gives you welcome "time on your hands." And for top-range cookery, burners are ever so much faster—light automatically — and leave pan bottoms spotless. You owe it to yourself—and your family—to look into all the modern conveniences of today's gas cookery. Ask especially about CP (for Certified Performance) gas ranges at an appliance dealer's or SOUTHERN COUNTIES GAS COMPANY

MODERNIZE NOW Get a new GAS RANGE

KITCHEN KEEPS COOLER — your modern gas oven helps see to that! For heavy, improved insulation holds heat inside. Accurate temperature control eliminates need for opening oven door.

MONEY-SAVING, TOO! Modern gas ranges, more efficient than ever before, actually require less fuel than older styles, and cost ½ as much to operate as the second-best method.

In Southern California it's more than 10 to 1 for GAS cooking
